Community Organization Project

"Hello, my name is Stacey Deerwester and I am a student at the University of Louisville in Louisville, Kentucky. I am studying Sociology and in my junior year. I had a Community Organization assignment in my Human Sexuality class with Dr. Suzanne Hopf. We had to get to know an organization dealing with sexuality, interview a representative (I was lucky and got to speak to Susan herself!), and write a paper about what I learned and what SpeakingOut was all about. In April, I will be presenting this to my class and teach them about SpeakingOut. Another way to spread awareness. I found SpeakingOut on the internet. After looking at many organizations, I was kind of getting frustrated because I didn't really feel the passion about their causes. I came across SpeakingOut and it really just spoke to me...the passion just poured off of the pages. A lot of organizations seemed to just want donations and really didn't say much about their cause...quite opposite from SpeakingOut. SpeakingOut showed so much more. It teaches people a lot about what child sexual abuse really is and what we as adults need to do to prevent this from ever happening to our kids and any kid. I know I will continue to spread awareness after getting to know SpeakingOut!" — Stacey Deerwester, Student, University of Louisville, KY
